PROFILE

I'm a voice over artist and celebrity impressionist based in London, with over 20 years experience in the industry and have a professional, purpose-built broadcast quality studio where I send out voiceovers all over the world. You may have seen me on Britain's Got Talent a few years ago, where I reached the live semi-finals performing celebrity impressions.

I work daily across all areas of the industry, voicing radio and tv commercials, web and corporate videos, e-learning, animations and more. I have played and developed characters for computer games, animations, cartoons and apps and have narrated documentaries and series for Channel 5, The History Channel and Discovery Channel.
